The daylily... the perfect perennial!

The daylily is sometimes referred to as the perfect perennial because it is:

- Available in a rainbow of colors and a variety of shapes and sizes.
- Able to survive with very little care in a wide range of climates.
- Suitable for all types of landscapes.
- Drought tolerant when necessary, with relatively few pest and disease problems in most gardens.
- Adaptable to various soil and light conditions.
- Known to bloom from late spring until autumn.
